

JESUS

"Now go out where it is deeper, and let down your nets to catch some fish."

SIMON PETER

⁵ "Master,"

THE NARRATOR

Simon replied,

SIMON PETER

"we worked hard all last night and didn't catch a thing. But if you say so, I'll let the nets down again."

Red letters gave one voice a colour. This gives all 774.

You already know how this works. A publisher put the words of Jesus in red, and one voice in your Bible has looked different ever since. SourceView Together does that for every speaker in Scripture: God and Jesus red, the narrator black, the main character green, everyone else blue.

HOW YOUR CLASS READS A STORY

- 1 Open the same story. Everyone on their own device, or pass one phone along a row. Nobody signs in and there is nothing to set up.
- 2 Take a colour. Four readers, one each. Each student reads their colour out loud when it comes round, and the layout tells them when.
- 3 Talk about it. Four questions are already waiting at the end. Fifteen to twenty minutes covers the lot, which is a chapel slot.

Leviticus is almost entirely red.
Esther has none at all.

Red is God speaking, so one book is 88 per cent his voice and the other never quotes him once. Your students can see that from across the room.

THE NARRATOR

²⁶ Those who heard this said,

THE CROWD

“Then who in the world can be saved?”

THE NARRATOR

²⁷ He replied,

JESUS

“What is impossible for people is possible with God.”

THE NARRATOR

²⁸ Peter said,

SIMON PETER

“We’ve left our homes to follow you.”

Who does the talking in this story

Set from the app's own text and colours. Narration and divine speech sit left, everyone else right, so you see the shape of a conversation before you read it.

ON THE PHONE

Every one of the 774 voices has a page of its own: what they say, where they turn up, and who they speak with most. Moses speaks in 33 stories, and the voice he speaks with most is God.

Read holds the year as one thread and Saved keeps the lines your students reacted to.

QUESTIONS
Three sets, four each

One story, three sets of questions.

Every story ends with four questions, written three times over so you can pick the set that matches the room you are in. Here is story one, God Creates, in all three.

FOR YOUR CLASSROOM

School

Middle and high school. Pointed at how your students treat each other on Monday morning.

- 1 What patterns or repeated words did you notice while reading?
- 2 What does this passage suggest about God's character?
- 3 How might this shape how you view people at school?
- 4 What is one way you can reflect God's care this week?

FOR FAMILIES

Family

Younger readers around a table. Shorter, plainer, and asked as "we".

- 1 What words did you hear again and again?
- 2 What does this show about God?
- 3 How should we treat people God made?
- 4 What kind action will we do this week?

FOR SMALL GROUPS

Small group

Senior students, youth group, or your staff. Room for a longer answer.

- 1 What patterns or repeated words did you notice in the passage?
- 2 What does the text suggest about God's character and purposes?
- 3 How could this view of creation shape how we treat people and our work this week?
- 4 What one concrete action will you take to honor God's design (at work, home, or city) this week?

SCHOOL QUESTIONS FROM ELSEWHERE IN THE YEAR

Where do you see pride or exclusion in your school?

THE TOWER

How would life at school look if these shaped the culture?

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

What wise boundary will you try this week?

PEOPLE SIN

03 THE PLANS

Plans that fit your term.

PLAN	FITS	LENGTH
Bible in 1 School Year	A full academic year	180 STORIES
New Testament in 100 days	One semester	127 STORIES
The Gospels	A term, or Easter	46 STORIES
God's Story: The Good News	Orientation week	7 STORIES

15 plans and challenges come with the app, Advent and Lent among them, and you can build your own out of any stories you like.

Progress carries across a break, so a plan survives the holidays and a student who joins you in week six starts where your class is.

TERM ONE OF BIBLE IN 1 SCHOOL YEAR, AS IT ACTUALLY FALLS

1	God Creates	Gen 1:1-2:25	6 min	5	Abraham Obeys God's Call	Gen 11:27-14:24	8 min
2	People Sin	Gen 3:1-5:32	8 min	6	God Makes a Covenant with Abraham	Gen 15:1-18:15	9 min
3	The Flood	Gen 6:1-9:29	10 min	7	Sodom & Gomorrah	Gen 18:16-19:38	7 min
4	The Tower	Gen 10:1-11:26	5 min	8	Abraham's Faith Tested	Gen 20:1-23:20	10 min

Three ways to run it.

In chapel

Put four readers on stage with the story on their phones and let the year level follow on theirs. Rotate the colours weekly so it is never the same four students. Your seniors can run it for junior grades without you scripting anything for them.

In small groups

A group of four is exactly the shape of the app. One story, one colour each, then the questions. It works in a form room at lunch, in a boarding house after dinner, or with your staff before the day starts.

In class

Religious education, character, or ethics. The colours make the source of a claim visible, which is a habit worth having well beyond this text. Set a story as reading, then run the questions with your class.

05 WHAT YOU ARE AGREEING TO

Nothing about your students leaves their device.

There are no accounts to create, so you have no student roll to hand over and no password for a fourteen year old to forget. Give a student a phone that has never had the app on it and they are reading inside a minute.

WHAT A DEVICE NEEDS

Apple	iOS 16.4 or later
Android	Android 8 or later
Tablets	Supported on both
Network	Download, then offline

- No accounts, no sign-in, no email address. Your students open the app and read.
- No advertising and no in-app purchases. It is free, and free is the whole model.
- No behavioural analytics. Progress, notes and reactions are written to a database on the phone and stay there.
- Works offline. Useful on camp, on a bus, and in a hall where the wifi gives up.
- Optional reminders are scheduled by the phone itself. No notification server, no tokens leaving the device.
- English and French, both offline, if you have a bilingual or immersion class.

If the app crashes, a diagnostic report may reach us. It carries the device model and the error, never a student's notes, reactions or reading history.

Try it with one group of eight before you take it to a staff meeting.

Download it, hand four colours to four students, and read one story together. That is the whole trial and it costs you a lunchtime. If it works, I will help you plan the term or the year around it, at no cost. Book a setup call and we will map it to your chapel calendar.
